FENIX

Fenix, located in a restored former warehouse, is the new art museum that tells stories about migration. The Tornado by MAD Architects, a double-helix staircase inside the museum, takes you all the way up to a panoramic rooftop platform that offers a fantastic view of the city skyline. Fenix invites you to explore how migration has shaped, and is still shaping the world. Within walking distance, you will find the new home of the Nederlands Fotomuseum, adding yet another cultural highlight to this vibrant area of Rotterdam: Katendrecht.

MARKTHAL

Step inside the Markthal (2014), an architectural icon filled with vibrant market stalls, shops and restaurants. Beneath its striking arched roof, 228 apartments bring life to the building. Located near the heart of Rotterdam's shopping district, this lively spot marks where the medieval settlement of Rotta grew into the modern city we know today. Every Tuesdays and Saturdays, the weekly market at Binnenrotte adds even more vibrancy.

RIF10

Discover the world's first urban surf pool! Located at Steigersgracht, this pool uses eco-friendly technology to create perfect waves up to 1.6 metres high. An artificial reef ensures the waves break naturally. Rif10 uses 100% sustainably sourced energy to power the wave installation and beach house. Rif10 also offers canoe and paddleboard rentals from the beach house and a surf bar with a terrace.

LAURENSKERK

The Gothic Laurenskerk (1449–1525) is the only medieval structure that withstood the devastation of World War II. Regularly hosting concerts, it also offers breathtaking views for those who climb its ancient tower. Rest on the benches of Grotekerplein's tranquil park, where a statue of Desiderius Erasmus (1466) stands proudly.

KUBUS-WONINGEN

The Cube Houses (1978–1984) by Piet Blom are an iconic part of Rotterdam. Each house represents a tree, creating an 'urban forest.' Designed to optimise space and light, the tilted cubes are a brilliant example of Rotterdam's innovative architecture.

FOR MORE TIPS AND INFORMATION

VISITOR INFORMATION

Rotterdam Tourist Information is your starting point for inspiration and tips on what to see and do in this vibrant city. Check out rotterdam.info, follow us on social media, visit our Rotterdam Tourist Information locations in the main hall of Rotterdam Centraal and at metrostation Hoek van Holland Haven, or explore Port Pavilion.

PORTLANTIS

Portlantis at Maasvlakte 2 is the official visitor centre of the Port of Rotterdam. Inside the striking building, an interactive exhibition shows how the port works and evolves, from shipping to climate challenges. Finish with a walk along Maasvlaktestrand.

HISTORIC DELFHAVEN

This is where the Pilgrim Fathers set sail for America in 1620. Explore the marina, the Pelgrimvaderskerk (1417), and relics of pre-war Rotterdam, including the Zakkendragershuisje (1653) and De Distillekerket windmill. Today, this charming area flourishes with antique shops, cosy cafés and attractions.

DEPOT BOIJMANS VAN BEUNINGEN

Catch your reflection in the mirrored facade of this groundbreaking art depot. Depot Boijmans Van Beuningen (2021) is more than a storage space; it's a cultural experience open to the public. Admire art, explore the rooftop forest or enjoy a meal at the rooftop restaurant Renilde. Afterwards, stroll through Museumpark and visit Chabot Museum, Kunsthal Rotterdam, Nieuwe Instituut and Natuurhistorisch Museum Rotterdam for a diverse range of exhibitions and cultural experiences.

TROMPENBURG GARDENS & ARBORETUM

Trompenburg, the Green Museum of Rotterdam, offers unique botanical experience. Home to thousands of plant species, including rare oaks, rhododendrons and wisteria, this 8-hectare municipal monument features traditional English gardens, a developing food forest and a desert greenhouse. It's the perfect spot for a green escape near the city centre.

ROTTERDAM BEACH

Hoek van Holland is the coastal area of Rotterdam with a wide beach, the sea and views of the port. Relax along the shoreline or enjoy the fresh sea breeze on windy days. The town features several statues and monuments that reflect its local history. Metro line B takes you from the city centre to Hoek van Holland Strand in less than 35 minutes.
